

CELEBRATING THE WOMEN OF THE JUNIOR LEAGUE OF LANCASTER

Andrea Chiccarine

Junior League Member Since 2014

How do you spend your days? I am currently busy at home with my three children, Nick age 10, Harmony age 8, and Petey age 4. I also spend time volunteering at their schools and in the League. Prior to deciding to stay home, I was a science and ELA educator for twelve years.

Of what are you most proud? Obviously I am very proud of my children and their successes, and I beam with pride just talking about my kids! Professionally speaking, I spent many years growing and learning professionally, in order to increase my ability to meet my student's needs. My pride came from their successes.

Who inspires you? My mother is who inspires me the most. She showed me what it meant to work hard, have a career, and be an outstanding dedicated mother. She continues to teach me how to be the best mother I can be through her actions and her love for her grandchildren. Other inspiration comes from all of the amazing friends I have made throughout the years. Each one has such a special place in my heart, and I have no doubt they have helped me become the woman I am today.

If you could give your younger self, or a young woman today, any advice, what would it be? Do it all! Travel abroad, take the internship, work for the extra degree, volunteer your time, and don't give up until you have proven to yourself that nothing can hold you back. Never stop learning something new, even if it is just a fancy new cocktail recipe to share with amazing friends! Oh and of course, join the Junior League!
