

CELEBRATING THE WOMEN OF THE JUNIOR LEAGUE OF LANCASTER

Kathryn Harris

Junior League Member Since 2017

How do you spend your days? I have been working as a Retail Associate at TJ Maxx in Lancaster for the last two years. I enjoy creating safe and happy shopping experiences for many people, including friends from the Junior League. At home, I enjoy relaxing with my family and my two special cats, whose constant companionship is helping me endure the isolation brought on by the pandemic.

Of what are you most proud? Education and learning are difficult for me. I am grateful that I have been able to overcome these challenges and graduate from Alvernia University in 2015 with a BA in Communications, where my focus was on music, culture and the creative arts. I look forward to the time when performance arts can resume.

If you could give your younger self, or a young woman today, any advice, what would it be? My advice to younger women is to not lose hope and to always believe in yourself. With the help of family, friends and organizations like the Junior League, I have learned that the best way to be happy is by serving others.
